European Intelligence.

LONDON, April 13.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

On Saturday last an unpleasant discovery was made at the the Bank of England.

Mr. Bish, of Cornhill, some time ago, sold to Mr. Cowell, Broker for the Bank, certain Exchequer Bills, which had been put into his hands for sale. Those Exchequer Bills were of course depositted under the care of the Cashier, by whom money was issued for the purchase. In the end of last week, the person now in custody, holding an office in the Bank, brought some Exchequer Bills to Mr. Bish for sale. Upon examination, Mr. Bish found those to be the very bills which he had lately sold to the Bank broker, Mr. Cowell. He was surprised at the discovery. But it occurred to him that there must be merely some mistake in the matter on the part of the Bank or its servants. He went to the Bank, and communicated these particulars. An investigation was immediately instituted, the result of which discovered, that an assistent to the Cashier had actually been of late in the practice of re issuing, for his own private benefit, Exchequer Bills, having been bought in by the bank, had been depositted under custody.

Monday and yesterday the investigation was renewed, and prosecuted to greater lengths. The gentleman who had been unfortunately betrayed into such a breach of trust, was committed to the custody of certain of the Bow-street officers; with one of these before him, one behind and a third at his right hand, he was conducted before Brooke Watson, Esq. a magistrate, and one of the directors of the Bank. A long and minute examination took place. It was discovered, that this person, a man of modest unexpensive habits, who has been brought up from a raw youth, under the immediate care and favour of Mr. Abraham Newland, has lived, for the last fifteen years, in lodgings; and with an income of about 1000l. a year, has not apparently, been in the habit of expending more than 200l. has nevertheless embezzled lately according to report, to the amount of no less (we are assured) than 100,000l. sterling, of the property entrusted to his official care. It is not imagined that his error is to be attributed to any other cause than speculating in the funds, amid their late fluctuations, ruinous to so many of the monied interests. He earnestly entreated to be left at liberty till Monday next. His request could not be complied with. He is we understand, fully committed to Newgate, for trial. The punishment for his crime is by a late act, Death. He was likely to have succeded his patron, Mr. Newland, now greatly advanced in years in the office of principal Cashier to the Bank. No character could be higher than his for integrity and honor. Mr. Goldsmith is said to have declared that he would have advanced him 50,000l. on his word, just as ready as five farthings.

April 21.

The only mention made of Lord Nelson in the will of the late Sir William Hamilton, is in a codicil, proved with the will on Saturday last, and is in these words:

"The copy of Madame Le Brun's picture of Emma, in enamal, by Bone; I give to my dearest friend Lord Nelson, Duke of Bronte; a small token of the great regard I have for his Lordship, the most valorous, loyal, and truly brave character ever met with. Lord bless him; and shame fall on those who do not say, Amen.

SALEM, May 27.

ANNUAL ELECTION.

On Wednesday, the Executive and Legislative Branches of our State government met at the State House in Boston. The re election of Gov. Strong was ascertained by a vast majority of votes. The Hon. David Cobb was unanimously re-elected President of the Senate, and Mr. Wendell Davis was chosen Secretary; and the Hon. Harrison Gray Otis was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The strength of parties was tried in the House of Representatives by the choice of a Speaker. The whole number of votes was 200. Mr. Otis, the federal candidate, had 124, Mr. Morton 73, and there were three scattering votes. This result is such as was to be expected from the State of Massachusetts. May she long preserve her federal character.

NEW YORK, May 30.

Arrived, ship Juno, Merrihew, Galway; Favorite, Mackey, Montego Bay, (Jam.) Melpomene, Lasner, Cadiz; brigs Thetis, Joy, Bordeaux; Betsey, Tripp, Galway; Sally Tracy, May, Cadiz; Almira, Marshall, Limerick; Hope, Leayraft, Bermuda; schr. Rambler, Whelden, Edenton, N. C.

Cleared, ships Liberty, Wickham, Liverpool; Ceres, Moore, do. brigs Fox, Reid, Leghorn; Integrity, Crow, Jamaica; Ontario, Robinson, Madeira; Harlequin, Hazard, Hull; Eliza, Bunker, Savannah; schrs. Sincerity, Rogers, St. Croix; Rising Sun, Ripley, Antigua; Mars, Chester, St. Domingo; Little Edward, Crowell, Charleston; sloop Lion, Rice, Martinique.

Arrived since our last,

Ship Juno, Merrihew, of New Bedford, in 30 days from Galway. Left there, brig Bellona, Delano, just arrived in 36 days from New Bedford, sailed 14 days before. May 12, lat. 48, long. 41, spoke brig William, Ashton, out 29 days from New York, for Liverpool. 13th, spoke brig Mary, Noble, from New York to Amsterdam, out 23 days. 23d, lat. 41, 6, long. 62, spoke brig Fox, of Salem, out 9 days from Alexandria, bound to Bilboa.

Ship Favorite, Mackey, from Montego Bay. Jam. Left there, schr. Charlotte, Matterton, had cleared out, and was to sail next day for this port; and brig Lydia, Chapman, for do. in 10 days. April 29, at Grand Coemans, saw a large brig ashore, with her lower masts standing, supposed she had been in that situation a long time, did not learn her name. Same day, spoke schr. Charlotte, Christie, from Jamaica for this port. May 5th, picked up the captain, mate, 2 passengers and crew (16 persons) from the wreck of the English brig Dispatch, Pearsall, from the Bay of Honduras, bound to New Providence, but had struck on the Calloredo reef. Mr. Bishop of Washington, N. C. was one of the passengers: he with the captain and 4 seamen had just quitted the wreck in the long-boat, but were fortunately discovered by capt. Mackey, and received on board his vessel. 12th, in lat. 26, 47, spoke schr. Sally, from Kingston, for Newbern, N. C. out 28 days, and put on board her the captain, mate, one passenger and 5 seamen, saved from the above wreck. 15th, in lat. 31, 3, spoke brig Pallas, Cunningham, from Jamaica, for this port, out 31 days. The English ship Fishburn, of London, 500 tons burthen, is wrecked at Honduras; vessel totally lost, crew saved. On the 17th April, Mahogany at Honduras was at 93 dols. and scarce, logwood 36 dols.

Ship Melpomene, Lasher, from Cadiz. Left there, ship Fame, Jones, to sail in 2 weeks for Philadelphia; ship Sally, Davis, for Norfolk; brig Ulysses of Boston; brig Jane Eliza, Taber, of New York; and brig ———, Soldier, of Philadel. sloop Stork sailed two days before for Gibraltar. Passengers, Mr. Henry Skinner of this city; capt. Thompson, late of the ship Mary, of this port, whose vessel being condemned, and the cargo damaged, were both sold for the benefit of the underwriters. May 25, in lat. 38, 28, spoke an English ship, out 58 days from Jamaica, for London. 26th, in lat. 39, 14, spoke ship William, of and for Liverpool, out 8 days from Philadelphia.

Brig Thetis, Joy, from Bordeaux. Left there, ship General Washington, brig Neptune and schr. Juno, Hall, to sail in 7 days, for Boston; ship John and Francis, Baaf, to sail for Charleston in 6 days; brig Byfield of Boston, in 10 days for Charleston; brig Wexford, of and for Charleston; brig Aristides, Dill, for Philadelphia, in 15 days; and ship Venus of New York, unloading. Spoke, in lat. 46, 10, long 40, 20, brig Mary, Brown, out 28 days from Norfolk; 29th, about 30 miles from Bordeaux, bound up, brig Fame from Boston, out 40 days. Ship Aurora, Burnham, has arrived at St. Andrews in 37 days from this port.

Brig Betsey, Tripp, from Galway. May 6, lat. 46, 40, long. 36, 30, spoke an English brig 31 days from Charleston for London. 16th, lat. 42, 30, long. 62 a brig 12 days from Salem for Tunis. Same day, fell in with the brig Jane Maria, of Philadelphia, with three feet water in her hold, and no person on board. Capt. T. supposed some vessel had taken the crew off. She had lost her rudder, her hatches open, both masts gone and a number of lemons floating in her hold; appeared to be about 140 tons, and almost new. May 21, lat. 41, 45, long. 62 50, spoke schr. Susan, from the West Indies for Portland.

Brig Almira, Marshall, from Limerick. Left no American vessels. Sailed in co. ship Numa, Killerain, of Portland, for Charleston; parted two days out. Spoke May 19, lat. 38, 49, long. 66, 9, ship Viner (as near as the name could be understood) capt. Myers, 5 days out from this port for Amsterdam. 21st, lat. 39, 51, long. 69, 30, a schr. 28 days from Dominico for Boston. 22d, lat. 40, 20, long. 70, 30, English ship William, 3 days from Philadelphia for Liverpool.

The commercial friend at New-Orleans, who favored us with the following list of vessels, lying there on the 21st of April, informs us that the ship Dispatch, Piles, from Philadelphia, is sunk in the River, with little expectation of her being raised. Freights were dull, and little produce had come to market.

Ship Augusta, Delano, of Natchez, for Livepool; Hiram French, of New-York, for Liverpool, Howard, Black; Columbus, Burger, Sukey, Whipple, and Mary, Sinclair, all of New York; Thomas, Wilson, of Philadelphia, for Liverpool; Flora, Dehart, do. do. Superior, Williston, Europe; Sally, Hunt for Liverpool; James, Chandler, of Baltimore, for do. Fidelity, Weems; Maddison, W———, repairing; Antilope of Boston.

Brigs Julianna, Vann Duym, of New-York; Tro, Fram, of do. for Europe; Fair, Manhattan, Parks, of do. Patsy, Hall; Polly, Jones, of Boston; Maria, ———, Sally, Edwards, of Philadelphia; for Kingston; Spanish Lady, Vanneman; Augustus, Toby; Dispatch, Stewart, of Philadelphia; Julia, of do. from Jamaica; John and Mary, Bray, of Charleston, for Havre; Nancy, Nelson, of do. for sale, freight or charter; Malabar, Bunker, of Baltimore, for Havre; Mercury, Teel, of Wilmington, Del. for the United States with Kentuckymen. Schooners Harriet, Baker, Portland, put into Havanuah in distress; Lydia, Patterson, of Charleston; Suckey, Lewis, of Philadelphia Rhoda, Green, Regulator, Evans, & Adventure, of Philadelphia, arrived with dispatches: Unity, Lambert, of New York; Sukey and Polly, of do. Griffin, Portland; Sloop Mary, Chase, Newburyport.

CHARLESTON, May 20.

A fire broke out this morning about one o'clock, on board the schr. Sally, capt. Gardner, of New York, lying at Pritchard's wharf. The alarm being early given, the activity of the citizens prevented the flames from spreading to the adjacent vessels, notwithstanding the difficulty of procuring water; the tide being at the lowest ebb. The fire originated in the cabin, but whether from carelessness or design is not yet ascertained; no person being on board at the time. The Sally put into this port a few days since, in distress, on her voyage from Richmond to New York; and having taken out her cargo, had undergone a thorough repair. Her quarter deck is entirely consumed; and her timbers we believe so much injured, as to render her hull unfit for repairs.

Mr. Jefferson's PAPER MONEY TENDER, TO Mr. Gabriel Jones of Rockingham county.

The following statement of facts, relating to this transaction, are made to the Editor of this paper, in a way which has obtained his entire confidence. It is a transaction concerning which much has been written—much has been published—much has been said. Those who have in any way interested themselves will be pleased to see it reduced to precision. To a community of so much intelligence, which contains so many individuals of great endowments, there can be no necessity for the Editor of this paper to attempt to give a complexion, when the facts speak so loudly and so eloquently for themselves. By this remark we do not mean to forestall public opinion as to those Editors or writers who may follow a different tract. The first duty which we owe to our subscribers is to publish the exact truth, as far as we [illegible] it, upon all subjects which e[illegible] to the public affairs, or to the [illegible] racters of the times.

Rockingham, March

Having seen in the Richmon[illegible] er some imperfect statements, u[illegible] by me, relative to a transac[illegible] took place some years ago, betw[illegible] mas Jefferson, Esq. the presen[illegible] gistrate of the United States, [illegible] self, I have thought it proper [illegible] matter in a fair point of view [illegible] a true state of the facts; whi[illegible] have been done ere this, had n[illegible] permitted. The facts are as fol[illegible]

In the month of September 1[illegible] Jefferson made application to m[illegible] loan of fifty pounds, which he [illegible] returning in a few months with[illegible] &c. which sum I lent him with [illegible] eft cheerfulness, having, at that [illegible] highest confidence in him as a m[illegible] nor, honesty and integrity; for [illegible] gave his bond payable in twelv[illegible] when I proposed that if his co[illegible] required, he might have it a lon[illegible] on condition that he would punct[illegible] the interest annually. This, [illegible] Mr. Jefferson failed doing, nor d[illegible] from him on the subject until I rec[illegible] letter enclosing the principal an[illegible] in paper money, which when it ca[illegible] hand, was not worth more than [illegible] ling in the pound. "Th. JEFFERSO[illegible]

I confess that on viewing the [illegible] ous aspect of the foregoing letter [illegible] enclosure, I felt great surprise and [illegible] pointment, that a person who st[illegible] high in the public estimation as to [illegible] that time, the governor of Virgin[illegible] who had shared so much of my [illegible] confidence; that he might have con[illegible] ed any sum within my power to [illegible] should have risked his reputation, [illegible] tempted to requite my friendship, [illegible] paying the paltry sum of fifty poun[illegible] interest, with something less tha[illegible] fourth of the real legal interest the[illegible] thereon; which I thought not wor[illegible] ceiving, and therefore, on the ret[illegible] Mrs. Harvey, re-enclosed to Mr. [illegible] foo the said paper money, together [illegible] his bond, in a piece of blank [illegible] leaving him to his own reflections; [illegible] ing at the same time, not to expos[illegible] until I should be advised of the rel[illegible] his deliberations on the subject [illegible] which I heard nothing until the [illegible] day of February, 1780, when a [illegible] Leonard Herring, a neighbor of min[illegible] is yet living, informed me he had [illegible] from the sash of a window in a [illegible] house in Staunton, a letter directed t[illegible] which he delivered to my hand. [illegible] opening the supposed letter, I found [illegible] be part of half a sheet of paper [illegible] vering the aforesaid bond. [Edit. Virginia Gazette.

Rockingham, March 17, 1803.

Having seen in the Richmond Recorder some imperfect statements, unauthorised by me, relative to a transaction which took place some years ago, between Thomas Jefferson, Esq. the present Chief Magistrate of the United States, and myself, I have thought it proper to set the matter in a fair point of view by giving a true state of the facts; which should have been done ere this, had my health permitted. The facts are as follow, viz.

In the month of September 1773, Mr. Jefferson made application to me for the loan of fifty pounds, which he proposed returning in a few months with thanks, &c. which sum I lent him with the greatest cheerfulness, having, at that time, the highest confidence in him as a man of honor, honesty and integrity; for which he gave his bond payable in twelve months, when I proposed that if his convenience required, he might have it a longer time, on condition that he would punctually pay the interest annually. This, however, Mr. Jefferson failed doing, nor did I hear from him on the subject until I received his letter enclosing the principal and interest in paper money, which when it came to my hand, was not worth more than one shilling in the pound. The following is a correct copy of the letter alluded to.

Monticello, April 29, 1779.

"DEAR SIR,

"By Mrs. Harvey I enclose to you the principal and interest of the money you were so kind as to lend me some years ago. It furnishes me also with an occasion of acknowledging, with this, the many other obligations under which you have laid me, of which I shall always be proud to shew a due sense, when ever opportunities shall offer.

"I am, Dear Sir,

"with much esteem,

"Your friend and servt.

(Signed)

"Th. JEFFERSON."

I confess that on viewing the deceptious aspect of the foregoing letter and its enclosure, I felt great surprise and disappointment, that a person who stood so high in the public estimation as to be, at that time, the governor of Virginia, and who had shared so much of my private confidence; that he might have command ed any sum within my power to lend, should have risked his reputation, and attempted to requite my friendship, by repaying the paltry sum of fifty pounds and interest, with something less than one fourth of the real legal interest then due thereon; which I thought not worth receiving, and therefore, on the return of Mrs. Harvey, re-enclosed to Mr. Jefferson the said paper money, together with his bond, in a piece of blank paper, leaving him to his own reflections; resolving at the same time, not to expose him until I should be advised of the result of his deliberations on the subject:—Of which I heard nothing until the 29th day of February, 1780, when a Mr. Leonard Herring, a neighbor of mine who is yet living, informed me he had taken from the sash of a window in a public house in Staunton, a letter directed to me, which he delivered to my hand. On opening the supposed letter, I found it to be part of half a sheet of paper covering the aforesaid bond. The thin cover however was so worn out at the folds and corners, that the bond was to be seen, which was also considerably fretted, especially at the corners. By whom that paper was forwarded, or how it found its way to to the sash, were my obliging neighbor accidentally discovered it, I have never yet been able to learn: but, from the whole of the circumstances, I was induced to believe it might be intended, never to reach my hands—However, after sundry evasions, and repeated applications to Col. Nicholas Lewis of Albermale, to whom I was referred as the agent of Mr. Jefferson, and while he was in France, I received payment of the principal and interest.

GABRIEL JONES.

From the Cape of Good Hope.

A gentleman who arrived in the Rolla, capt. Arnold, at Providence, R. Island, from India, last from the Cape of Good Hope, has favored us with the following particulars from that quarter. Although some of these have already been published, we have thought it proper, in order to preserve the connexion of his recital, to give it in his own words.

[Providence Pap.

"The colony was restored to the Batavian republic on the 20th February.

The above restoration was to have taken place the 1st of January, but the unexpected arrival of the Imogine sloop of war on the 3d December, with dispatches to Lieut. General Francis, postponed it. It is rather a remarkable circumstance, that the triplicates and duplicates arrived previous to the originals, and that the latter arrived in the Puringo, the same day, that the Concord frigate brought dispatches to the colony, viz. on the 19th February.

On the 21st, a small tri-coloured flag was seen flying on the castle at day-break, at 8 o'clock the Batavian standard was hoisted under a general salute from the battery, and the British ships of war in the bay. Several public dinners were given, to which the principal officers of the former government were invited. On the 1st of March governor Jamesson was installed, and on the 5th, the British, under the command of vice admiral Sir Roger Curtis, with the principal officers of the civil establishment, sailed for Europe.—The ports are open to all nations at present, on their paying an impost duty of 10 per cent. to which also their own ships are subject.

It is further stated, with a degree of confidence, that the inhabitants (the glare of pomp having vanished) already begin to regret the departure of the English. The idea of liberty has totally subsided, and the strong arm of power has already braced its nerves, and that in a most visible manner. While the English held the Cape, the toleration of religion was allowed, a piece of ground had been allotted for erecting a Mahometan place of worship, for that numerous sect, and a new chapel had been built by the Dissenters, in Long street; Behold the reverse: the Mahometans have been refused the grant, and the Dissenters a licence. Commissary General De Mist, having declared, there shall be no other place of worship than the reformed Lutheran Church, tauntingly adding, "If the churches are not large enough, I will make them," &c. A similar stretch of power has also been made; a gentleman who was for upwards of four years an examining clerk in the Secretary's office, with a salary of one thousand and eighty dollars per annum, and who also had permission to follow his profession as a printer, has, since the English government left the colony, been preremptorily ordered to desist from printing, under penalty of prosecution by the Fiscal. This gentleman, we are informed, has strongly memorialized the Governor & Council, on this subject, but not meeting with any redress, intends seeking the protection of our country, where the arms of government are only extended to punish the guilty, and protect the innocent. Had there been sufficient time, it is probable he would have arrived in the Rolla.

The above gentleman, victim of Dutch oppression, has been employed these four years in writing an historical account of the Cape of Good Hope, which we presume will be worthy attention, as from his situation in the secretary's office, he has had access to the archives of government, from the first colonization of the Cape; and his knowledge of the Dutch language, will enable him to to throw before the public, many curious anecdotes, relative to the settlement.

Most of the English merchants are preparing to leave the colony. One of them Mr. Michael Hogan, has advertised the whole of his immense property for public sale, so early as the beginning of April."

"By captain Lasher, we understand, that advices from Gibraltar to a respectable mercantile house at Cadiz had been received, which mentioned, that a French fleet, under convoy of two 74's, had passed Gibraltar, bound for Louisiana, with 5,000 Polish troops on board.

N. Y. Morn. Chron.

Extract of a letter from Bardeaux, dated April 24.

"It is certain that Mr. Monroe's negociation at Paris is in a fair way. It is even said there is no doubt the cession of Louisiana to the United States, on condition that the latter settle all claims of their individuals against the French Republic, and pay THREE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS in the bargain."

The success of Major Lewis against Mr. Andrew Moore, is an extraordinary proof that democracy declines very rapidly. Mr. Moore has been long known to possess great influence in that quarter. Major Lewis had been so long absent, that few knew him; he was also confined by sickness. It was known that he was opposed to the present rulers, and that the president had deprived him of an office without having any other reason. There is another case of that sort, which we believe the president recollects with regret, and if he does not at this time, perhaps he will before the next election.

THE DEVIL OUTWITTED;

OR,

A NEW ATTEMPT AT SWINDLING.

The following very singular transaction actually occurred in a village, not many miles distance from Boston. A single Gentleman, who had a considerable quantity of specie, and who had been in the habit of accommodating his neighbors with loans of money, a few day since, had received a payment to the amount of eight hundred dollars, and late in the evening was returning home, when he was accustomed by a being, whose external habilliments, it seems suggested to his imagination the exact similitude of the Devil, & who boldly demanded of him, the sum of one thousand dollars. Terrified at this abrupt and fearful interview, the gentleman told him he had not that sum by him. The strange personage replied, that he knew he had it, and that he must let him have it immediately; the gentleman then told him that he had but eight hundred dollars by him, but that if he would give him time, he would procure the remainder of the sum required. The devil accordingly took his word, and appointed the next evening at the hour of ten to meet him at his own house, and threatened, that unless he then fulfilled his promise he would carry him off. At the same time, enjoining the most profound secrecy as to this and their future interviews. Not having the remainder of the money on hand, the gentleman was obliged to borrow the deficiency. The man to whom he applied knowing his circumstances, expressed his surprize at the request, particularly as it seemed to be of the most urgent nature; and as the gentleman appeared extremely agitated and anxious. He according desired to know the reason of his application.

The gentleman immediately replied it was of the utmost consequence, and that he should be ruined forever, unless he could procure it. His friend told him he had the sum he wanted, but that he could accommodate him on no other condition, but that of knowing the use to which he would apply it. In this dilemma he wisely concluded, of two evils to chuse the least, supposing that if the essential part of his engagement was punctually compli ed with, the devil would be civil enough to absolve him from the promise of secrecy. He accordingly, in a very serious manner, disclosed the whole transactions of the preceding evening. His friend then gave him the money, with permission, however, to be present at this singular interview. He accordingly secreted himself, with a loaded pistol, in a little closet in the room; and at the hour appointed, this chief of Pandemonium punctually appeared to receive his money. At this instant, the man in the closet stepped out, and presenting a pistol to his breast, demanded who he was, and threatened to fire, unless he immediately divested himself of his state robes of darkness. Confounded at this unexpected rencounter, the Poor Devil lost all supernatural agency; he was compelled to lay aside his Crown of horns and Cloven foot; and stood exposed a near neighbour of both parties, detected in this singular scheme of plunder. It seems this man, knowing the day before that his neighbour was to receive a large sum of money, conceived this plan to impose on his superstition and credulity, and rob him of one thousand dollars. In this instance the Devil was completely outwitted, and by overlooking the eight hundred dollars, which he might probably have in this manner secured, to obtain a thousand, he lost all; and is now accommodated with lodings in a Pandemonium little more agreeable than that where, it is said, the character which he meant to personify, resides.

A VALUABLE MILL FOR SALE.

THE subscriber wishes to sell his MILL, known by the name of Clifton Mill, within two and an half miles of Dumfries, on the waters of Quantico, which is as constant a stream as any in this part of the country, and in an exceeding healthy situation; very conveniently situated to a fine wheat country, not being more than half a mile out of the way, in going to Dumfries, from the main road leading from Fauquier Court-House, Centerville, &c. (and by some thought not any out of the way at all) and a very good road to it. There are, if the purchaser chooses, 227¼ acres of land which may go with the mill, (except one acre which will be reserved) or a smaller quantity as may be agreed on. The mill is an over-shot, with a wheel of 20 feet 9 inches and 4 feet head, with two pair of stones. One pair of French burrs of 5 feet, the other of Cologne, with every apparatus necessary for carrying on merchant business to the best advantage. The mill house is fifty feet long and twenty seven feet wide, two stories high, with a small kiln for drying corn, together with a barn, stable, cow house and lumber house, convenient to the mill. A convenient dwelling house, (not quite finished) with a kitchen, meat and corn house; the whole of which have been built within 7 years past. There are two very thriving young orchards of peach and other fruit trees. It was supposed, had not the frost killed the fruit this spring, upwards of 100 gallons of brandy might have been made from them. Should the whole of the land be required with the mill, there is another small house, kitchen and meat house, at a short distance from the former.

The situation of this property must render it a desirable acquisition to any person inclined to engage in this line of business; particularly so as it is situated so near tide water. It is deemed unnecessary to say any thing more respecting the premises, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase would wish to see them. Nothing would induce me to part with this valuable property, but the pressing demands against me which I am anxious to discharge, therefore a great bargain may be expected. Any further information may be known on application to.

JOHN SOWDEN, Clifton Mill.
